Privacy Policy

Data protection

Gentherm recognizes the importance of protecting the personal privacy of its customers, potential customers and website visitors. Your privacy is important to us and we want you to feel comfortable visiting our site.

Personal data

When using our website you may be asked to supply personal data, which are only collected insofar as they are technically necessary. Personal data are information, which can be directly or indirectly linked to a natural person, e.g. the name, e-mail address or address of a person.

Collection and Usage

When you visit our website, our web servers for data security reasons temporarily store data that may enable the identification of the user's computer. Our server automatically saves the Standard Server Log Files that your browser transmits to our servers. The log files contain the browser and its version, the operating system, the website from which you visit our website (referrer URL), the IP address assigned to you by your internet service provider and the date and time of your visit. This information is transmitted while using any other website of the internet and thus is not specifically generated for the use of Gentherm's website. They do not enable any identification of your person. Gentherm does not consolidate the data with other sources. This data is deleted after a statistical analysis.

Security

Gentherm uses technical and organizational security measures to protect the data supplied by you and managed by us against manipulation, loss, destruction, and access by third parties. Our security measures are continually improved in line with technological developments.

Cookies

Cookies are small text files stored by your browser that allow us to learn more information about your visit or use of the sites. We may use cookies to remember your personal information, including your registration information, and to deliver personalized and relevant information specific to your needs. We may also use cookies to track patterns on the Sites to help us improve visitor or customer experience. You may disable the automatic saving of cookies by adjusting the settings of your browser. Due to their central role of enhancing/enabling usability or site processes, disabling cookies may impair the use of Gentherm's website.

Analysis of Usage data

The Sites use Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc. ("Google"). Google Analytics uses cookies to help the Sites analyze how users use the Sites. The information generated by the cookie about your use of the Sites (including your anonymized IP address) will be transmitted to and stored by Google on servers in the United States. Google will use this information for the purpose of evaluating your use of the Sites, compiling reports on website activity for website operators and providing other services relating to website activity and internet usage. Google may also transfer this information to third parties where required to do so by law, or where such third parties process the information on Google's behalf. Google will not associate your IP address with any other data held by Google. You may refuse the use of cookies by selecting the appropriate settings on your browser, however please note that if you do this you may not be able to use the full functionality of the Sites. By using the Sites, you consent to the processing of data about you by Google in the manner and for the purposes set out above. To provide visitors more choice on how their data is collected by Google Analytics, Google developed the Opt-out Browser Add-on: <http://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout?hl=en>. By installing this Add-on, no information is being sent to Google Analytics.
